Mr. and Mrs. Arch Catlin will give a dinner party tonight followed by auction-bridge, at their home in Fillmore street. Dinner will be served at quartet tables, which will be decorated with spring flowers.

The party tonight is the second of a series of affairs being given at the Catlin home this spring.

Whatever is called, ponjab, rajah, khaki-kool, this new, heavy silk woven stuff is the fad for distinguished summer tailor-mades. The model pictured is pale gray in color with snappy black buttons and leather belt. The straps on the coat, and the rolled-over epaulets are fetchingly military.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harger of Abilene announce the engagement of their daughter, Lois, to Mr. Ross I. Parker of Schenectady, New York. The wedding will take place Wednesday, June 16.

Miss Hargis was graduated from Kansas university, Lawrence, in 1913. She is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and also of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity. Mr. Harger is editor of the Abilene Reflector, and is now at the head of the Belgian relief committee of Kansas. Miss Harger will come to Topeka next week for a few days, and will be the guest of Miss Mary MacLennan.

Mr. Parker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Parker of Kansas City; his father is secretary of the Abernathy Furniture company. Mr. Parker was graduated from the engineering school of the University of Kansas in 1912, and immediately afterward entered the offices of the General Electric company, at Schenectady. He was a fraternity man at K. U. He and his bride will make their home in Schenectady. Mr. Parker is a relative of the Frank P. MacLennan family.

A Topeka woman, Mrs. Lee Monroe, has been asked to make an address before the national conference of the Child Labor Bureau, which will be held in San Francisco, Cal., May 29, 30 and 31. Mrs. Monroe was appointed as a delegate to the conference by Governor Arthur Capper to represent Kansas, and Hon. Owen R. Lovejoy, who is at the head of the National Child Labor committee, invited her to make an address on the efficacy of the child labor laws of Kansas.

All the states of the Union are represented in the conference. Kansas is thought to have a good engineering law, and was one of the first states to make a law for the protection of the children from exploitation. Mrs. Monroe was vice chairman of the committee, of which Professor Blackmar was chairman, that drew up the child labor law that was passed by the Kansas legislature, and which has undergone little or no changing.

The meeting in San Francisco is the second division of the eleventh annual conference of the committee met in Chicago in January. The program will include addresses by eminent speakers on "Child Labor and the National Problems," "The Federal Control of Child Labor," "The Child, America's First Consideration," "Child Labor in the West," "A Charter for Childhood."

Miss Ruth Roesser and Miss Lavon Gregg of Tulsa, Ok., and Mr. Archie McKeever will be guests at dinner tonight at the F. Jarrell home. Miss Roesser and Miss Gregg are students in the College of the Sisters of Bethany.

Mrs. W. A. McCarter has returned from Chicago, where she attended a meeting of the Midland Authors' club, of which she is a member. Another Kansas woman who has a membership in the club of well known writers of the Middle West is Miss Esther Clark, of Lawrence. She was made a charter member of the club. Miss Clark has been in Hutchinson to attend a concert at which her poem "The Call of Kansas" was sung. The poem has lately been set to music by Professor Haberkorn, now living in Hutchinson, who was formerly director of music in the University of Illinois. He has had a residence in America after a three-years' residence in Germany.

Miss Iona Buchanan, a pupil of Miss Jennie Blinn, will give a song recital, assisted by Miss Neami Johnson, violinist, Tuesday evening, May 4, at the Second Presbyterian church. Miss Blinn and Miss Theima Johnson will be accompanists. The program will be as follows: Old Italian songs—O cessate di piangermi. Pur dicesti. Recitative and Aria from Theodora. Recitative—Victory over Death. Aria, Angels Ever Bright and Fair. To Music—Serenade. My Repose. Hedgo Roses. Hark, Hark, the Lark. Violin, Oberon. Tannhauser. Wagner Elizabeth's Prayer. Violin, Cantabile et Bolero. Danbe Sunshine Song. The Dawn. Leoni Ferry Me Across the Water. Homer A Garden Romance. Grant-Schaefer When Love is Kind. Old English Old Scotch F. Song.

Mrs. Oscar L. Moore entertained the Portia club at a breakfast party today at her home. The program was: Sunday will be Bible class day at the Y. W. C. A. vesper service. Mrs. E. J. Moore cordially invites members of the classes will tell what made the deepest impression on them during their study in the last year. All women are cordially invited to participate in the service, which will be followed by an informal tea.

News has been received in Topeka of the marriage of Miss Vivien Theresa Rush and Mr. Francis L. Spear, which took place in Kansas City.

The marriage is of interest to Miss Rush's friends in Topeka. She is the only daughter of Mr. P. L. Rush, a retired merchant of this city. She is known among the musical people. She graduated from Bethany college and studied three years with Professor Klingenberg, who was formerly at the center of the table was May Pole, surrounded by bouquets of iris. From the top of the pole were stretched ribbons to the plate of each guest, and at the ends of the ribbons were dolls dressed in May Day costumes. Covers were placed for: Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Estey, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Crumline, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Larimer, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Magee, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Menninger, Miss Isabel Mills, Mr. J. W. Mills, Judge and Mrs. T. Garver, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Maubach, Mr. J. A. McClure, Miss Louise Allison, Mrs. Mrs. Rutledge and Mr. and Mrs. Searle.

recollections, who grew "silver bells and cockle shells" and pretty flowers in a garden that has in it some of the quaint old fashioned memory-haunting blossoms that our grandmothers cultivated.

Miss Mary Weightman will entertain the girls of her sewing club next Thursday.

The Duplicate Whist club met Friday with Mrs. J. C. Gafford. Those asked for a guest table compliment to Miss Frances Chase, of Wilkes-Barre, Penn., were: Miss Chase, Mrs. W. T. Crosby, Mrs. George W. Parkhurst and Mrs. John R. Shelton. Mrs. A. L. Nichols substituted for an absent member of the club.

An unusually dainty frock of white batiste and "Val" lace and embroidery is shown here. The bodice with high waist line is formed of groups of the lace and embroidery which continue on the pleats of the skirt decorated only when they reach a border band of lace and material finished with a "Val" edging. A little girde is formed of satin roses on a narrow strip of ribbon.

Mrs. Albert Neese entertained her bridge club at her home in Buchanan street. Those who played for absent members were: Mrs. A. A. Sharp, Mrs. Charles Kline and Mrs. Oscar Bonnet.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Searle and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rutledge gave a dinner party at the Seale home Friday for the elders of the First Presbyterian church and their wives. In the center of the table was May Pole, surrounded by bouquets of iris. From the top of the pole were stretched ribbons to the plate of each guest, and at the ends of the ribbons were dolls dressed in May Day costumes. Covers were placed for: Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Estey, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Johnston, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Crumline, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Larimer, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Magee, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Menninger, Miss Isabel Mills, Mr. J. W. Mills, Judge and Mrs. T. Garver, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Maubach, Mr. J. A. McClure, Miss Louise Allison, Mrs. Mrs. Rutledge and Mr. and Mrs. Searle.

Rumor is concerned today with the supposed romance of a school matron and an army man. The woman in the case is a high school teacher who left town rather abruptly a day or two ago to meet her lover, who was to be home from the wars on leave of absence. The man is a German, who had what is known as an "exchange" professorship at the Kansas university. It seems that there is an arrangement whereby foreign teachers are sometimes sent to this country to teach in the large schools, and American instructors are sent abroad to teach in Europe. The German professor, who taught at K. U. on such an arrangement, was also a reservist in the army of Emperor William, and was called home at the beginning of the war to serve. He is now in the Imperial Guard. His engagement to a teacher in Topeka has been talked of among her friends in Topeka, and it was supposed that the wedding would take place some time this summer. Word lately reached her, the story goes, that her fiance was to be back to his home on furlough, and she left at once to join him in west Germany, the Fatherland of them both.

Whether the trip is to result in a wedding or not is a matter of speculation that Madame Hear-Say has not yet cleared up.

The out-of-town guests and debaters who were in Topeka for the oratorical contest were guests of honor at the Friday night dinner given by the Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity of Washburn college at the high school cafeteria luncheon room. The decorations in red and white were arranged in the shape of the letter W. Toasts were given by the visiting guests, and Dean W. R. Arthur, of the Law School, was toastmaster.

Covers were laid for: Mr. Adrian Newsom, of Kansas City, Justice John Marshall and Mrs. Marshall, Senator and Mrs. James A. Troutman, Dean and Mrs. W. R. Arthur, Professor and Mrs. E. D. Schonberger, Miss Laura Wingfield of Lawrence, Miss Sarah Greer of Lawrence, Miss Anna Johnson of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. E. J. Unberger, Mrs. John Marshall, Mrs. W. R. Arthur, Miss Flora Harrington, Miss Dorothy Dales, Miss Frances Cornick, Miss Helen Ross, Miss Corinne Ripley, Miss Eunice Stevens, Miss Marie Cowgill, Miss Florence Hoover, Miss Myrtle Kessler, Miss Elizabeth Turner, Miss Ernest Erickson, Miss Estella Clements, Miss Ruby Scott, Miss Ruth Kaster, Miss Edith Titus, Mr. J. S. Goeke of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. C. E. Reeves of Huron, South Dakota, Mr. Elmer Barr, Mr. Roy M. Sumner, Box W, South Bend, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if you or children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night. Adv.

L. Whitcomb of Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kiene and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Myers entertained their evening bridge club Friday night at the home of Mrs. A. A. Sharp. Those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Kiene and Mr. and Mrs. Myers.

Mrs. W. H. Rutter, Mrs. J. F. Jarrell and Mrs. A. W. Bronson substituted for absent members at a meeting of the Friday bridge-luncheon club at which Mrs. A. T. Lucas was hostess Friday afternoon.

The members of the Chancel Chapter of Grace Cathedral will have a party Monday afternoon, May 3, at the home of Miss Helen McClintock, in Fillmore street.

Mrs. John T. Price entertained a crowd of young people at dinner, followed by dancing, at her home at her new home 1128 Garfield avenue. She was assisted by Mrs. A. A. Sharp, and the guests were: Miss Mary Samson, Miss Pauline McVey, Miss Alene Officer, Miss Mabel Jones, Miss Ruth Thomas, Miss Isabel Stewart, Miss Helen Whitted, Mr. Archie Jones, Mr. Roy Blakely, Mr. Fred Rigby, Mr. George Mann, Mr. Wendall Switzer, Mr. Walter Kutlery and Mr. Edith Sharp.

A crowd of the women who are making war on the cigarette are stirred up about a story told at a convention held in a city of southern Missouri, where the gates of heaven had exploded. Women, indeed! What women? Not the women that one knows, of course! But the one who made the suggestion was ready with her concrete example. She had her listeners that at a party in Topeka the cigarettes were passed (and it was a party for the nabobs, too). All the women present called the cigarettes except the wife of a distinguished lawyer and judge. Shawking! doncher know?

About fifty of the society people of Topeka attended each of the Sunday dinners given last Sunday and the week previous by Luella Johnson, one of the caterers who has given efficient service to many of the elite-to families of the city in their party-giving capacity. A plan to make money for the church to which she belongs resulted in dividing the congregation into two divisions that called themselves the Allies and the Germans, respectively. For the purpose of aiding her division, Luella Johnson thought of the plan of giving two big dinners, and invited the members of the church and others that she thought would be interested in her project. She gave her parties in the home of a friend in Seventeenth street. Her tables were laid in three large rooms and automobiles of the diners were lined up outside on both sides of the street. Her banquets were successful, both as regards her skill in cooking and serving, and in their financial results. From seventy-five to a hundred well known Topeka people attended the dinners.

The girls and matrons of the Square and Compass Dancing club gave their annual spring party at Kellam hall Thursday evening. The dance was in compliment to the matron of the club, who have entertained at the regular series of dances during the season. Ferns and spring flowers were pyramided before the large mirror at one end of the room, and the walls were boxed of blooming plants. In the dining room the quartet tables were lighted with pink shaded candles and spring flowers filled tall handled baskets. The music was furnished by those who danced were: Mr. and Mrs. Austin Schnacke, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Edleblute, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Petro, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hearick, Dr. and Mrs. John Steimveyer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kuehne, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. A. Steinberg, Mr. and Mrs. William Dyal, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spreng, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Penwell, Mr. Neale Wright, Mr. John Nicholson and Mr. George Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, who for the past five years have resided in Kansas City and Dallas, Texas, have returned to make their future home here. Mr. Lewis has been associated with the law firm of Lewis, Schmidt, two cities, but the "call of the old home" prevailed, and Harry, as everyone in Topeka knows him, will be connected with the business of his father, W. J. Lewis, at Kansas City, for a time the Lewises will be at the W. J. Lewis residence, 706 Taylor street.

Notes and Personal Mention.

A crowd of the women who are making war on the cigarette are stirred up about a story told at a convention held in a city of southern Missouri, where the gates of heaven had exploded. Women, indeed! What women? Not the women that one knows, of course! But the one who made the suggestion was ready with her concrete example. She had her listeners that at a party in Topeka the cigarettes were passed (and it was a party for the nabobs, too). All the women present called the cigarettes except the wife of a distinguished lawyer and judge. Shawking! doncher know?
